THREE BILLIONS FOR ROADS

News dispatches from Washington announce that the government is planning to spend, under federal aid regulations, $3,000,000,000 in the construction of 180,000 miles of highways, covering a period of twenty years.

It would, of course, be out of the question to spend any such sum within two or five years, but spread over a score of years the maximum estimates call for only $150,000,000 annually. It would be impossible to conceive a wiser expenditure than this, which will in a very few years, and with the cooperation of the states aided by the government, link up and weld together the whole nation in a magnificent system of permanent highways.

The American people have become accustomed to thinking in billions, where once they thought in millions. But the conservative plans of the government do not call for any extravagance in carrying out even such a splendid program of good road improvements. A dollar put into a road stays there, its value only increased by the relative few cents necessary for maintenance. Federal aid regulations will enable the government to have an advisory, if not a superintending, control over the disbursement of the huge sums to be spent.

Scientifically laid out, a magnificent net work of national thoroughfares can be developed, to connect all parts of the country, north and south, east and west, connected up by state systems. All will form a comprehensive and cohesive whole that will make every dollar return 100 cents in effectiveness and prevent the costly duplication and disconnected isolations of a system not so scientifically developed.

As auxiliary aids to the railroads, the highways are of incalculable value. The country long ago reached the stage where no one system of transportation could carry the increasing volume of business. The railroads, the highways and the waterways form the trio of transportation units which must be developed simultaneously and which, when so developed, will carry the nation's products at rates which will return a reasonable profit on all investments, including that of the people in their highways and waterways.

This situation makes it all the more important that there should be greater uniformity in state road laws. Next year the legislatures of all but five of the states will be in session, affording an unrivaled opportunity to secure uniformity in such legislation.—Kansas City Journal.

Matters in the Near East are fast approaching a crisis. As might have been expected the action of the allies in weakly yielding to the first demands of the Turks only emboldened Kemal Pasha and his henchmen and they are becoming more exacting in their demands. It is now a question of somebody backing down or renewing the war. Kemal demands that the allies clear out, bag and baggage and is threatening to use force if they refuse to do so.

And now it is said that Harding is not so sure about the ship subsidy bill. Sometime ago he insisted that it simply must be passed, but now that the special session of congress has been called it is reported that it may take up appropriation measures and not waste time on the subsidy measure. Evidently the Republicans have heard how the election went last Tuesday.

From a test made a few days ago the Tulsa World concludes that scratching has become the rule rather than the exception in Oklahoma elections, at least so far as Tulsa is concerned. Just after the recent election a reporter interviewed 100 voters met a random and found that only three had voted a straight ticket all the way through.

The bolsheviks are celebrating the fifth anniversary of their seizing the reins of power in Russia. However, they have failed in boasted program of forcing their system on the rest of the world, although they proclaimed that the millenium had dawned for the laboring classes. Their promises have not been realized and the world is not taking to bolshevism.

The Republicans in times past said that Democratic victory meant an instant fall in prices of farm products. This time cotton took a big jump upwards as soon as it became certain that the Democrats had won.

Public Education in State Suffers Loss in Non-taxable Indian Lands; Burden Heavy

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 10. — Public education in Oklahoma suffers an annual loss of almost a million dollars in possible revenue through the large amount of tax-free Indian land in the state, according to Dr. William T. Bawden, director of the U. S. Commissioner of education and director of the educational survey of the state now almost complete.

Dr. Bawden has compiled figures from forty-five counties to date showing that the income for education lost in this manner was for those counties last year $789,000. In several counties, he said, the value of Indian lands amounts to more than twenty per cent of the assessed valuation of property in the county. In one it runs as high as thirty-one per cent, his figures show. Reports from other counties are still to be received, he added.

Another item of special study in the course of the survey has been that of the distribution of state aid for local school districts, he said. In this connection, he said, he believed the findings will show that the state aid is not systematically distributed where it is most needed but that some school districts which are fairly well off receive aid while others that are very poor in resources and income receive no aid at all. He added that this would vary to the point where two districts receiving aid the richer would be shown receiving the greater amount.

Make Startling Reports
Dr. Fletcher H. Swift, professor of education at the University of Minnesota, is in charge of the investigation of the matter of distribution of state aid to school districts, Dr. Bawden said. He is preparing a table showing the comparative amounts spent for school purposes in the three wealthiest counties of the state, the three poorest counties and the three nearest the average. Statistics gathered to date will show, he said, that the wealthiest counties are not the ones with heaviest school taxes, but that the poorest counties of the state which, in spite of high rates of taxation, still do not have as much for schools as the richer counties which have less taxes.

Dr. Bawden announced that the field work of the survey would end Saturday, with a conference of all members of the survey staff. At that time, he said, the various subdivisions of the staff which had been appointed to study specific problems would submit their reports to the director.

Indian Group Meet
The Indian school group met Tuesday and Wednesday at the Indian institution at Chillico, he said, with teachers in Indian schools from other parts of the state present. Following that conference the Indian school report was completed and will be submitted Saturday.

The higher education group completed its work last week and not complete its report until a meeting of the group which will be held in Washington about Nov. 20, Dr. Bawden said.

Members of the survey staff attended each of the seven sectional meetings of the Oklahoma Education association of teachers last week, according to Dr. Bawden. The staff members who attended the various meetings were as follows:
At Blackwell, J. W. Gowans, superintendent of public schools at Hutchinson, Kans.; at Muskogee, Dr. E. E. Lewis, superintendent of schools at Rockford, Ill.; at Alva, Dr. P. H. Swift, professor of education at the University of Minnesota; at Mangum, Dr. Thomas Jesse Jones, director of the Phelps-Stokes fund, New York City; at Ada, Mrs. Katherine M. Cook, chief of the rural schools division of the U. S. bureau of education; at Edmond, Pres. F. L. McVey, of the University of Kentucky; at Durant, Doctor Bawden.

Women Athletes in France Sign Peace Pact; Want Harmony

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS.—Peace has been officially signed between the two warring feminine federations of athletic women of France. A temporary truce was declared last July in order to hold at Pershing Stadium the first feminine Olympic games on record, in which the United States team carried off second honors.

Gaston Vidal, under secretary of state for physical culture and sports, acted as peacemaker. Both federations elected officers to represent them in the Union of French Sporting and Athletic Federations, and henceforth they will be known as the Feminine Federation of France.

The new Federation comprises 144 feminine clubs and athletic organizations throughout France with a membership of nearly fifteen thousand young women and girls.

COMBINATION OF UNIONS FAILURE

Socialists in Japan Block Federation of the Labor Units.

(By the Associated Press)
OSAKA, Japan, Nov. 10. —AN attempt to form a federation of the labor unions of Japan has ended in failure, owing to the inability of the socialists, who are in control of some of the unions, to agree with regular unionists, who avoid politics. A conference called here for October 1 ended in a row in which the police took a hand, eventually arresting a number of the socialists. The Nippon Rodo Sodomei, the socialist wing, wanted a Federation with central control while their opponents, the Kuami Sodomei, wanted local autonomy. On the discussion of the rival resolutions an outcry arose, which threatened to develop into a free fight when the police intervened and were made the targets of bottles and stones, but soon got the upper hand, cleared the hall and took the ringleaders to jail, whence they later were released.

However this fight between the two elements in the labor movement is said to be the only reason for the failure of the laborites to advance their cause. There has been in Japan for a great number of years an organization known as the Kokusui-kai, which in one respect might be likened to the Fascisti of Italy. This society, which wields great power, is opposed to all revolutionary movements and is in the habit of taking "direct" action when called upon. It is backed by the great labor contractors, who supply labor in the bulk throughout the country. When a strike is called in a given industry, this organization often is asked to intervene in the interests of the prevailing order of things and usually it can induce the workers, by one means or another to return to work. It is strongly opposed to labor unions and uses its influence to prevent them from gaining membership.

At a meeting of the Nippon Rodo Sodomei, after the failure to form a Federation, a protest was entered against "the outrages committed by the members of the Kokusui-kai upon members of the Sodomei" at a recent meeting held at Kyoto.

Another cause of the lack of strength of the unions at the present time is the business depression many skilled workmen, especially those in the engineering trade at present being out of work.

HARDING ISSUES RED CROSS NOTE

President Urges People to Respond to Call of Organization.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—President Harding in a proclamation issued today calling attention to the annual membership roll call of the American Red Cross, which begins tomorrow, declared "there are peculiarly urgent reasons to appeal this year in behalf of an even greater generosity than has been necessary in some other times."

Notable among those reasons the President mentions the situation in the Near East where he asserts millions of people must look to more favorable national communities such as the United States for the means of life. He bespeaks the aid of the American people for the Red Cross as one of the chief relief agencies and the co-operation of Americans in the support of all the organizations at work in that portion of the world.

Harding's Proclamation The Proclamation follows: "To the American People: "The assurance, based on many years' experience, that there will be prompt and generous response, makes it always a satisfaction to direct public attention to the annual Membership Roll Call of the American Red Cross. This year it will open on Armistice Day, November 11, and close on Thanksgiving Day, November 30. As President of the United States, and also president of the American Red Cross, I hereby proclaim November 12 as Red Cross Sunday, and invite all the peoples to unite with their spiritual leaders in such observance of it as may promote a renewed consecration to the gospel of service based upon divine injunction and sanctioned by all good conscience.

"By the terms of the Congressional Charter which called it into being, the American Red Cross is charged with certain clearly defined duties and obligations. These it has continued, during the past year, to discharge faithfully and efficiently. Here are peculiarly urgent reasons to appeal, this year, in behalf of an even greater generosity than has been necessary in some other times, because of the extraordinary demands upon such services of mercy and humanity. One of the most fearful disasters of all history has befallen the ill-fated Near Eastern area, where the lives of millions of unfortunate people even now depend, and must continue for a long time to depend, on the untiring liberality of more favored communities. A very great sum is required to be raised if the emergency shall be met; and while the task is one of which all well-disposed peoples must contribute, our own country in virtue alike of its inspirations of humanity and its fortunate endowment in material possessions, must be conspicuous for both the great share it shall give, and the high spirit animating the gift. It is therefore asked that co-operation be established between the Red Cross, the Near East Relief, and all other agencies which are concerned to assist in dealing with this crisis.

Domestic Field Demanding "In the domestic field, demands continue to press heavily upon the Red Cross. The Government is earnestly seeking to insure to every distated or disabled ex-service man the full measure of care and help which national gratitude and simple justice dictate. The aim must be to restore every service man to the best possible health and the largest opportunity for a normal and self-supporting life. In this effort the Government, the Army and Navy, have gladly availed themselves of the assistance of the Red Cross which, due to its nation-wide volunteer organization, has been a constant and valued aid.

"In the broad field concerned with the physical welfare of the people, the Red Cross, in sympathetic contact with other organizations, and the Federal and State Bureaus, has been particularly active in the establishment and support of Public Health activities for the prevention of disease and the encouragement of sound sanitation. In its peculiar and historic field of Disaster Relief, the Red Cross has met the emergencies brought about by the large number of floods and other calamities during the past year, and is still called upon to aid the suffering in foreign lands due to war and pestilence. For these reasons, regardless of the multitude of local problems in every community, the American Red Cross deserves well at the hands of the American people.

"In this interests of our common humanity and of the service which we owe to our fellow men, I invite my fellow citizens to renew their allegiance to the American Red Cross during the period of the Membership Roll Call.

(Signed) Warren G. Harding."

Ada Football Squad Leaves for Tangle With Henryetta Hi

Coach Cox and his 18 husky high school football players left at noon today for Henryetta. The game which originally was set for Armistice Day was advanced to Friday.

The squad was in good condition although two men, were injured and not expected to play the entire game. Wright, Molloy and Morris have been taking only light work this week due to injuries.

Cox said before leaving that he would use Rayburn, Gregg, Baker and Burkhardt at ends, Wright, Nettles and King at tackles, Willoughby Morris and probably two second string men for guards, Molloy and Wright at center, with Potts and Carr at half back positions. Hargis will be at fullback and Smith at quarter.

Wright will go in only for utility today, as he was injured last week. He can be used at tackle, guard or center. In case Wright is used at tackle, Cox can take Nettles out of the line for half back, to relieve the men in the backfield. Deavers, who has been utility back, is out with a broken arm. Baker also is eligible for the back field.

Henryetta was reported in good condition with only three men unable to play today. The Oklahoma county eleven has been showing up strong this season.

Following a big demonstration down town by college pep organizations, the football game between Wilburton Miners and East Central Tigers was started at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Wilburton Miners arrived today with a large delegation of booster and interest in the game was the highest of any played here this season. Both teams were confident of victory, but hope was favoring the local eleven. The cold weather was expected to put more pep into the game and football enthusiasts here were expecting to see a good exhibition of the game.

CARELESSNESS IN USE MAILS BARED

Patrons Urged to Help the Postoffice Department Meet Situation.

Urging patrons of the United States mails against negligence and waste incurred in incorrectly addressed and improperly packed mails M. F. Manville, postmaster of Ada, followed in line with the postmasters of the United States in placing this warning before the people.

In a notice received from the postmaster general's office pointed out the annual loss through this channel.

Following is the bulletin:
First Asst. Postmaster General,
Washington, Nov. 1, 1922.
The importance of due care and the disastrous results of carelessness are so vital to the Postal System that we quote the following short sermon from the pen of that brilliant writer, Dr. Frank Crane, who has given us his special permission to use the same:

STOP THIS WASTE.
(By Dr. Frank Crane.)
The other day the postmaster at Chicago had placards put on the motor vehicles operating in the Postal Service reading as follows:
STOP THIS WASTE.
25,000,000 Pieces of Mail Annually Are Delayed or Not Delivered at All Because They Are Incorrectly Addressed or Improperly Packed.

The postal authorities call our attention to the fact that there are 25,000,000 pieces of mail that they must handle three to seven times oftener than they would have to handle them if they had been properly prepared.

And even after they have exhausted every means of identification and salvage they succeed in delivering only slightly more than one-fifth of that amount.

And this does not include vast quantities of circulars and newspapers which are not properly addressed, and which are destroyed because they can not be delivered.

In Chicago there is one building that is used as a storage place for mail of obvious value and for mail of first class which can not be delivered. Twice a year the contents are auctioned off, because there is no way of finding the owners. In this building are bins of shoes, quantities of clothing, dress goods, automobile parts and tires, sporting goods, suit cases—everything from a bird cage to a mouse trap. These are lost to both the one who sent them and the one who should receive them because somebody was careless in tying a knot, or used flimsy wrapping paper, or put on a defective address.

Nearly 300 employees are engaged in correcting the common, preventable errors of the people. The only reason the post office can stand this drain of carelessness upon its resources is that the people pay the bill.

There ought to be a general campaign of education with the object of impressing upon the people the importance of properly preparing and addressing anything they put into the mail box.

Another waste, caused by sheer thoughtlessness, arises from the custom of many business houses holding their mail until the close of the business day, when they release it to the postoffice in a perfect deluge. All day, canceling machines, distributing cases, and the other facilities for handling mail lie practically idle, and just after 5 p. m. they are taxed beyond their capacity. If people would simply change their mailing habits to the extent of depositing their mail even two hours earlier than they do at present, it would revolutionize the Postal Service.

This article is written in the hope that many people will adopt the idea of paying better attention to their mail matter.

After all, the postoffice is the great public servant, and it behooves every citizen of the country to make that servant as efficient as possible.

Much of the criticism leveled at the post office is due to the carelessness of the general public.

Sweden to Construct Roads on Taxation of Motorists in Country

STOCKHOLM.—Swedish motorists will begin to pay taxes on their vehicles and tires on January 1, 1923. Tourists from foreign countries, however, may still bring their own cars into the country and roam about at will for as much as twelve months without any charge whatsoever.

The new auto tax, which is to be applied to the repairing and improvements of roads in Sweden, is levied on cars and tires according to their weight. Each car using rubber tires is taxed 8 kronor for every hundred kilograms or fraction thereof, which amounts to about $1 per hundred pounds. The tires are taxed 1.50 krona for every kilogram of weight. Tires in use at the beginning of next year will be exempt, and in the case of pneumatic tires, two extras will be exempt.

Well, an insignificant village near Rome, was once the Eternal City's most formidable rival.

Haiti Planters Preparing To Export Largest Crop of Coffee in Island's History

(By the Associated Press)

ST. MARC, Haiti.—There are indications in plenty here that the coffee crop which is now being picked and shipped will be the largest exported from Haiti in all her history. St. Marc is the center of the coffee growing country, and already the roads and trails are pouring in a flood of the aromatic berries that find such high favor in Western Europe. Since the export tax on coffee produces a little more than one-third of the government's entire revenue, and the coffee exports average two-thirds of all Haiti's export trade, the importance of this record breaking crop can be appreciated.

At the peak of the French regime in Haiti a crop of 74,000,000 pounds was exported to Europe in 1791. Thirty years later it had dwindled to 29,000,000 pounds as a result of neglect and the incessant civil wars following Haiti's independence in 1803. Under Haitian rule it finally climbed in 1880 to 78,000,000 pounds, but the production was again at low ebb when the United States intervened in 1915. Three years later, when American troops had restored order in the island, it reached a total of 80,000,000 pounds, of $15,500,000 declared value, and that year the crop paid 40 percent of Haiti's entire revenue.

The present crop, however, is destined to exceed all previous French, Haitian and American occupation figures, and the average price to the peasant will be nine cents a pound. Practically all of the coffee goes to Havre for distribution through France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Austria, where it is used in small lots as a grading coffee.

It is worthy of note that practically not a dollar of the millions that the new crop will bring to Haiti will go into the pocket of a single American, for the coffee industry in Haiti is wholly in the hands of Haitians, a few French, and a small number of men of mixed blood.

There is not a single cultivated plantation in Haiti. The berries grow semi-wild from the old French days, requiring no irrigation and receiving practically no care. Coffee experts hold that through the indolence and ignorance of the peasants, fully one-half of the average crop is not picked. With attention to shading and pruning, and with reasonable diligence, the coming bumper crop could certainly be quadrupled, they aver. The coming revision of the Haitian tariff that will materially reduce or eliminate the present export tax of three cents per pound will materially increase the profits of the peasant, and with the extension of the roads and trails made possible by the Haitian loan, coffee prospects are considered very good indeed.

While Haitian coffee has not yet gained a foothold in the United States, its distinctive aroma and strength have outstripped all competition in Western Europe.

Buddies in State to Celebrate

MUSKOGEE, Nev. 10.—Dedication ceremonies for the newest state hospital for ex-soldiers will feature the Armistice day celebration here tomorrow. The hospital is the third undertaking of the state hospital commission, according to Leon H. Brown, state adjutant of the American legion. It is to cost, when completed $500,000, and will be turned over by the state to the federal government for operation.

The hospital is at Honor Heights just out of the city. Dudley C. Monk, state commander of the legion, H. B. Fell, former state commander and chairman of the hospital commission, Horace H. Hogan and S. Grant Victor, members of the board, with members of the state executive committee of the legion will take part in the ceremonies. Representatives will be here from other legion posts of the state. The ceremonies will begin immediately after one minute of silence has been observed at 11 o'clock. The program is in charge of James F. Smith post number 15 of the legion, O. M. Drake, commander.

The two other undertakings of the hospital commission, according to the state legion adjutant, were the enlargement of the University hospital at Oklahoma City to care for one hundred exservice men, and the building of the recently occupied $500,000 hospital at Sulphur which has been turned over to the federal government.

A parade will precede the dedication at Muskogee, and the legion post will give a dance in the evening, the proceeds of which will go toward furnishing comforts to soldiers later to occupy the hospital.

OKMULGEE, Okla., Nov. 10.—Okmulgee will celebrate with a parade on the afternoon of Armistice Day, according to B. W. Parks, legion post adjutant. The parade will be followed by a sham battle between legion members and national guardsmen. A band concert and a ball at a theater are events planned for the evening.

Ardmore Family Now Settled on Safe and Sane Travel Measure

(By the Associated Press)

ARDMORE, Okla.—The Ikard family here has announced that it is considering changing for the second time the appellation "stable" to "garage."

The announcement came as the result of an accident in which the buggy in which Mr. and Mrs. M. Ikard were riding was struck and demolished by a motor car just as the horse-drawn vehicle turned into the driveway at the Ikard home.

The Ikards were among the first of local families to discard the horse for the motor. But as motorists increased in numbers and the number of accidents grew in totals, they decided that the slower and safer means of locomotion was the more desirable, according to Mr. Ikard, so they disposed of the automobile, renamed their garage "the stable," and returned to the peace of the 'nineties.

The recent accident placed a new angle on the situation, Mr. Ikard says. He explains that there are now so few driving horses that motorists are no longer able to estimate the speed of a horse so accurately as that of a car, hence it is more dangerous now to drive a horse than a car.

VALLEY STATES TO START TRUCK LINE

New Highways to Serve as Transcontinental Carrier Means.

(By the Associated Press)

Minneapolis, Minn.—Construction of highways within the states in the Mississippi Valley so that trunk roads may continue through adjacent states, with a view to their serving as transcontinental highways north and south, is the basis of a movement now under way in this state.

Fostered by Perry S. Williams, manager of the travel and resort bureau of the Minneapolis Journal, the plan has won the support of Governor J. A. O. Preus, who will soon call a conference of representatives of states in the Mississippi Valley to discuss the program.

States included in the valley conference are Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky and the province of Manitoba in Canada.

"Present day highway paving programs in the separate states are mapped out without regard to the continuity of these roads into adjacent states," Mr. Williams explained. "Arterial trunk highways in one state might terminate at the border line of another state where inferior roads may exist, or where long detours are necessary to reach a trunk highway."

Proposed plans call for the co-operation of highway commissions in these states in the designation of arterial highways, which will enable the construction of roads and incidentally establish transcontinental north and south highways from Louisiana to the Dominion of Canada, up through the Mississippi valley, according to Mr. Williams.

Malaria, now known to be caused by an animal parasite transmitted to man by mosquitos, was supposed formerly to be due to a poisonous emanation from the soil of certain localities.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1896, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a crummy-looking. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the ace lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peppy, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. ## Juvenile Judge is Believer in Home Courts for Child

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Fathers mothers in disciplining their children can well take a lesson from the functioning of the juvenile court, according to Judge Robert J. Wilkin of the Brooklyn Juvenile court, in an article in the Humane Review, publication of the American Humane society.

"If Johnny breaks a window by carelessly or intentionally throwing a stone he must be called to account for it," he stated. "If at home, it is done by papa or mama who are the judges of the juvenile court, and if outside the home, it is the public justice who acts. The duty of each is the same."

"First to determine justly and legally, did Johnny do the charged act? If he did not, then papa or mama or the public judge, as the case may be, must let Johnny go. And without a warning either. "If on the other hand, Johnny is found in the wrong, then papa or mama or the public judge must study over carefully for the cause of his offending and devise a wise and judicious remedy to cure the evil in Johnny."

Seminole County Supports Looney for Sate Senator

Joseph C. Looney, candidate for state senate for this district, was increasing his lead in receipt of belated reports from over the district.

Looney's lead in Seminole county was probably the most outstanding result of the day, the county being considered a possible number in the republican column. Looney's vote was 3,298 while Hill suffered the minority with 2,043.

Konawa, Looney's former home, gave him a safe lead of 231 to Hill's vote of 193, although the box went to Fields in the governor race by 11 votes.

The consideration given Seminole county as a republican stronghold is shown in the returns of two years ago when Harrell was given a plurality of 1,600 votes in the senatorial race.

McKeown was given a plurality of 1,436 votes in Seminole county.

Contractor Has Gained 30 lbs On Tanlac

"Tanlac fixed me up so I gained thirty pounds. I have never seen or heard of such a wonderful medicine in all the sixty-six years of my life," declared William Magee, well-known retired contractor, 3340 LaFayette Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

"About two years ago I had a severe bladder trouble that left me in an awfully run-down condition. My appetite went back on me and my stomach got so weak I could not eat and digest enough to give me any strength. I also had the worst sort of pains across the small of my back, and could not sleep."

"I began picking up soon after I started taking Tanlac, and now I have a fine appetite, sleep like a log and that tired, worn out feeling has all left me. I could not do otherwise than recommend Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

COLLEGE NOTES

Charles Cuning and Russell Bond of the College and Oscar Parker, of the High school faculty, pleased a large gathering at Mill Creek yesterday, according to President Linseich. They furnished vocal solos and trios. The meeting was a community gathering and was followed by a get-together banquet. Mr. Linseich, who made an address on "Civic League and its advantages," stated that the largest assembly hall in town was crowded with people.

Several members of the college faculty are visiting schools through the district in the interest of extension work. Mr. Newcomb is visiting schools in Okmulgee county and Mr. Davis in Hughes county. Mr. Fentema is making his weekly trip to extension classes, this week in Hughes and Okmulgee counties.

President Linseich has received word from Secretary Vaughn, of the survey commission, that the members of the survey are now compiling their report of their investigations in Oklahoma. The report will be published on or before December 10. Oklahoma educators and others interested in school work are awaiting the report with a considerable degree of interest.

The X-ray was so called by Professor Rontgen because, in algebra, "X" signifies an unknown quantity, and the mechanism of the ray was unknown to him.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

FOUNDER OF D.A.R. DIES AT PLYMOUTH

Last Survivor of Little Band of Original Signers Passes.

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Mary Smith Lockwood, founder of the Daughters of the American Revolution died yesterday at the Jordan hospital where she had been a patient, since September. She was 91 years old.

Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, "Little Mother to the Daughters of the American Revolution," was the last survivor of the little group of 18 women patriots who organized that body more than 30 years ago, and despite her nearly full century of years, she was one of the most active members of the organization almost up to the time of her last illness.

Not only was Mrs. Lockwood identified with the founding and the progress of the D. A. R., but she was an active figure in the Women's Republican Organization, and also a noted author. Her chronicles of Washington history, especially diplomatic and political, have placed her well up on the rolls of writers.

Mary Lockwood was born at Chautauque, N. Y., in 1831, a daughter of the famous Smith family, founders of Smith College. Her ancestors were warriors. Her great-grandfather was a Revolutionary soldier; her grandfather lost his life in the battle of Black Rock, in which her father also fought, and her husband, Henry Lockwood, was a soldier in the Civil war. It was to accompany him on part of his way to the front that she went to Washington, where she lived for the remainder of her life.

Her father was a leader in the Whig party but later became a Republican, and the daughter, who did a great deal of reading with him, grew up an ardent advocate of that party. When, in 1880, the first Republican Women's club was founded, she became a charter member.

Eight years later she was deep in the task of promoting and managing the first International Council of Women, and in this work she met for the first time such prominent women as Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Mary Wright Sewell, and Miss Rachel Foster.

While the life of Mrs. Lockwood has been replete with many interesting accomplishments, the outstanding work of her career was the founding of the D. A. R.

The organization is frequently referred to as "something Hannah Arnett started," for the reason that sentiment looking toward the creation of a patriotic body to commemorate the part played by women in the Revolutionary war was crystallized by the publication of Mrs. Lockwood's story of Hannah Arnett.

This heroine, according to the story, broke in upon a meeting of American leaders who were considering terms of surrender in 1776, when the British had settled before Elizabethtown, and defeat faced the colonists. The indignant, scornful woman, in an elegant appeal, shamed the discouraged men into action and convinced them the Americans could win out in the end if they were loyal and patient.

At the time her story was published, Mrs. Lockwood was the proprietor of a boarding house in Washington. It was a popular gathering place for the leading celebrities of the national capital, among whom were General and Mrs. John A. Logan, and it was at this house in 1890 that the group of 18 women met and founded the nation-wide order that now numbers more than 172,000 women among its members.

The society was made national in scope instead of being organized by states, and its success was instantaneous. Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, mistress of the White House at the time, was elected first President General. The first conference of regents was called by Mrs. Harrison in 1891, and the first congress of the organization was held in Washington in 1892.

In addition to her work with the D. A. R., Mrs. Lockwood took a prominent part in the fight for equal suffrage, but when the federal constitution was amended to permit women throughout the land to vote, she never enjoyed the privilege, for she had been a resident of Washington so long she had forfeited the right of franchise.

The memoirs of Mrs. Lockwood, dating from the time she accompanied her husband to the capital during the civil war, are remarkable for their interest and brilliant wit. Even until her last days she easily remembered and vividly pictured tales of battles fought near the city, and of the panic following the Confederate threats against Washington and Baltimore.

Aside from her memoirs and political writings, she has produced several volumes which give a clear and exact history of Washington and of the many notable persons who have lived and worked there. Her book on the historic homes of the city is regarded as an authority.

Mrs. Lockwood is survived by no close relatives. Her daughter, Miss Lillian M. Lockwood formerly business manager of the D. A. R. magazine, died several years ago, and her husband has been dead almost half a century.
